SERVICES:

1- Foreign Business Structures in UAE

With the development and growth of business, diversification into new market segments and creation of a network of subsidiaries and associated companies there is a greater need to improve the efficiency of business management. This can be achieved through the creation of a holding company. A holding is a system of commercial companies, including a head (mother) company and network of small and medium-sized subsidiaries under its control. The creation of a holding company helps optimize taxation, organize financial flows, boost business reputation and investment attractiveness through the promotion of a single brand and more.

2- Business Purchase

Sometimes, instead of incorporating a company from scratch, entrepreneurs prefer to buy already existing business that includes a set of assets.
When purchasing, it is necessary to correctly evaluate the business and arrange sale and purchase transactions with the owner, taking into account all legal requirements.

3- Business Sales

Business owners, for one reason or another, may want to sell it. Assessment of an enterprise, preparation for sale, negotiations with buyers are complex and time-consuming tasks. Therefore, we offer assistance in sales of business – a comprehensive service for full support of the deal.

4- Legal Due Diligence

Legal Due Diligence is a comprehensive legal check of a company to assess risks while acquiring a business. The main aim of conducting Due Diligence is to eliminate or minimize possible negative consequences of transaction, as well as to optimize business processes during the company's further activities. Such examination makes it possible to identify the risks of transaction invalidation, litigations initiation, imposing a penalty on property and corporate conflicts.

5- Liquidation of Companies

Compliance with the statutory procedures for the liquidation of a business entity is no less important than the procedure for its establishment.

SERVICES:

6- M&A deal structures, Investment Transactions

In today’s world, companies are actively promoting the removal of barriers to international business dealing. For entrepreneurs who are looking to expand their scope of activities, creating a holding is one way to achieve this.

7- Creation of Joint Ventures

Joint ventures have recently become one of the most popular forms of direct investment by foreign companies planning to do business in the UAE and looking to implement complex projects. To successfully achieve the set goals, it is important to first assess all risks and ensure proper corporate governance.

8- Financial Due Diligence

In today’s world, at a time of active development of the commercial market when one of the fundamental principles is freedom of doing business, situations often arise in which several companies decide to merge into one company for further joint business. However, reasons for mergers vary.

9- Real Estate Transactions

A real estate transaction is the transfer of the right to an object from one person to another. We are talking here, as a rule, about the purchase and sale, donation and leasing of an immovable object. As such, land plots, apartments, private houses, commercial infrastructure buildings can act. At the same time, the subjects of law on both sides can be both a person and a legal entity.

10 - Drafting Contracts

Doing business involves entering into many contracts of different types. When entering into an agreement it is necessary to consider the specifics of the relationship with the counterparty, and come to an agreement based on individual interests, circumstances and needs. A thoroughly written contract in legal terms is a key to the success of any deal.

11 - Corporate Disputes

Corporate disputes occur due to disagreements arising from the establishment and management of a business entity. Corporate disputes often occur between shareholders (participants) of the business entity, as well as company management. Differences between the parties that remain unsettled may make it impossible to continue to do business.
